AMPOULES

What is the series' concept?

Our skin's condition is constantly changing and is affected by countless factors, such as the room temperature, weather, personal stress levels, individual life style and dietary habits. An extra portion of active ingredients is often needed to effectively influence the skin condition at the time and to bring about a rapid, clearly visible improvement.

Ampoules are absolutely ideal for meeting these customer requirements: As a tailor-made form of additional care, ampoules can be used singly or in combination. Similarly, the duration of use can be easily adapted to the customers' individual requirements.

Which customers will benefit from this series?

The PROFESSIONAL COLLECTION series of ampoules offers active care in concentrated form that fulfills the most sophisticated requirements. It provides maximum flexibility, individuality and effect, depending on the needs of the skin at the time and the wishes and needs of customers, for whom a rapidly visible result is paramount.

What are the main active ingredients of this series?

The ingredients in every ampoule are tailored to a particular skin condition or a special skin problem.

Can ampoules be combined?

Yes, because anything goes. Depending on the skin type and customer requirement, ampoules can be recommended singly or offered as a completely individually compiled package of ampoules.

AMPOULES

How long should ampoules be used at home?

Impulse use: Even just one ampoule produces a convincing immediate effect! Ideal for special occasions or for customers who would like to get to know the world of professional active concentrates first.

Cure use: They can be used both as a short beauty cure (3 days or more) or as an intensive long-term cure for up to 28 days.

Daily use: For skin care enthusiasts an ampoule each day is the beauty guarantee for a long-lasting, convincing skincare result. The exceptionally diversified ampoule assortment provides new impulses again & again.

How long can an ampoule remain open?

Basically, an ampoule is designed for one complete application. It should be applied entirely to the skin (face, neck, décolleté). Thus, product quality and results are sure to be the best possible.

Through the year with DR. GRANDEL ampoules

Naturally, all DR. GRANDEL ampoules can be recommended and used all year round. But those who like to be guided by the seasons could follow these suggestions:

Spring: Activating, restructuring ampoules give new energy and freshness.

Summer: Richly moisturizing ampoules create a radiant complexion.

Autumn: Balancing, regenerating ampoules ensure a harmonious, even complexion.

Winter: Protecting, nourishing ampoules provide support through the coldest months of the year.
